

Program

Karolinska Institutet Medical Ethics Conference 2023

June 7–8th

Day 1 Wednesday, June 7th

Venue: Karolinska Institutet, Widerströmska huset, Tomtebodavägen 18a, 171 70 Stockholm

08.15–09.00 Registration, lobby

09.00–09.15 Welcome address: Professor Annika Östman Wernerson, President Karolinska Institutet

Organizational details Ulrik Kihlbom

09.15–10.00 Keynote 1: Nils Lynöe, Karolinska Institutet:
“How to study hidden values in health care?” Chair: Gert Helgesson

Coffee break

10.30–12.25 Parallel session 1

	Clinical ethics, room Inghesalen Chair: Ulrik Kihlbom	Research ethics, room: Wretlindsalen Chair: Gert Helgesson
10.30–10.55	Helene Bodegård, Karolinska Institutet: “Patientcentred or personcentred – what’s the difference?”.	Melanie Goisauf & Michaela Th. Mayrhofer, BBMRI-ERIC: “Ethical challenges of responsible data sharing and reuse practices”
11.00–11.25	Daniela Cutas, Lund University: “Bodily integrity versus family interests”	Linus Broström, Lund University: “Research subjects, bystanders, and research protectees”
11.30–11.55	Joar Björk, Uppsala University: “From bad to worse – on the ethical permissibility of different forms of consentless care”.	Michaela Th. Mayrhofer & Melanie Goisauf, BBMRI-ERIC: “Does the Dream of Open Science Depict Ethical Considerations as a Nightmare?”.
12.00–12.25	Antoinette Lundahl: Karolinska Institutet: “When is compulsory care ethically justified for patients with borderline personality disorder?”.	Katarina Cvek: Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences: “Laboratory animals – are we doing our best to ensure their welfare?”.

Lunch

Day 1 Wednesday, June 7th

13.30–14.55 Parallel session 2

	Clinical ethics, room Inghesalen Chair: Niklas Juth	Research ethics, room: Wretlindsalen Chair: Daniela Cutas
13.30– 13.55	Phil Marsden, Great Ormond Street Hospital, London & Ayesha Ahmad, University of London: "He must not know what I think": the impact of domestic abuse, coercion, and silencing on clinical decision-making in a Paediatric ITU setting".	Thomas Hartvigsson, University of Gothenburg: "The goals of forensic psychiatric treatment and research".
14.00– 14.25	Kristina Hug, Lund University: "To tell or not to tell – That is not the question. Normative implications of detecting Alzheimer's before the onset of symptoms".	Kajsa Norbäck Wieslander, Uppsala University: "Research ethics committee members' perspectives on paediatric research: a qualitative interview study".
14.30– 14.55	Lisa Forsberg, University of Oxford: "Is consent to psychological interventions less important than consent to bodily interventions?".	Elin Lampa, Uppsala University: " Public involvement in research with forced migrants – exploring ethical issues".

Coffee break

15.15–16.40 Parallel session 3

	Medical AI, room Inghesalen Chair: Joar Björk	Medical Law, room: Wretlindsalen Chair: Linus Broström
15.15– 15.40	Lucas J. Meier, University of Cambridge: "Outsourcing Medical Ethics to AI".	Lena Wahlberg, Lund University: "Strain at a gnat and swallow a camel? Over- and underinclusiveness of the Swedish legal requirements for ethical review".
15.45– 16.10	Mónica Cano Abadía, BBMRI-ERIC: "Trustworthiness in Medical Artificial Intelligence"	Sarah de Heer, Lund University: "ADM systems in healthcare and the IVDR – transparency despair or transparency contentment?".
16.15.– 16.40	Petra Müllerová, Lund University: "Ethical principles considering mental health applications using AI".	Isra Black, University College London & Lisa Forsberg, University of Oxford: "Is consent a necessary condition for the lawfulness of medical interventions?".

18.00 Dinner

Day 2 Thursday, June 8th

09.00–09.45 Keynote 2: Kristine Bærøe, University of Bergen: “Translational ethics: On bridging the theory–practice gap in medical ethics”

Chair: Ulrik Kihlbom

Coffee break

10.05–12.00 Session 1

	Special session: Just severity Room: Inghesalen Chair: Lars Sandman
10.05–10.25	Lars Sandman, Linköping University: Introduction. Niklas Juth, Uppsala University: “Equality, severity and priority setting”.
10.30–10.55	Erik Gustavsson, Linköping University: “Children and healthcare priority setting”.
11.00–11.25	Adam Ehlert, Uppsala University: “Double threshold prioritarianism: Some problems and solutions”.
11.30–11.55	Moa Dahlin, Uppsala University: “Legal comment”

Lunch

13.00–13.45 Keynote 3: Angus Dawson, National University of Singapore: “What role should trust play in medical ethics?” Chair: Gert Helgesson

13.50–14.45 Session 2

	Priority setting, room Inghesalen Chair: Manne Sjöstrand
13.50–14.15	Greg Bognar, Stockholm University: “Trading Off Lives and Livelihoods”.
14.20–14.45	Lars Lindblom & Erik Gustavsson, Linköping University: “Reasons, public values, and priority setting”.

Coffee break

15.05–16.00 Concluding panel session:
“Knowledge gaps and blind spots in medical ethics – what next?”

Panel: Angus Dawson, Niklas Juth, and Lena Wahlberg

Chairs: Gert Helgesson & Ulrik Kihlbom

16.05–16.15 Final words; ending conference