Karolinska Institutet
Innovations AB

KI Innovations AB will start a mentorship program for Neuroscience researchers at KI in collaboration with StratNeuro, one of the Strategic Research Programs at KI. The program is especially tailored to those with little or no experience of commercializing research and who want to know more. The M4R program is free of charge and includes lectures and workshops in addition to mentoring. The external business mentors are hand-picked based on each researcher's individual situation and needs.

Check the StratNeuro webpage for more details.
